AMWA "Cuts for Cancer"

May, 2011 – Chicago NE Campus

On May 2, 2011, our Chicago Northeast campus had the wonderful opportunity to participate in the American Medical Writers Association (Chicago Area Chapter) "Cuts for Cancer" event. At the event, TUBC teachers performed cuts and styling for anyone willing to donate their hair to the cause.

While at the event, the teachers attracted quite a crowd, and convinced a few more women to donate their hair on the spot. All donors were very happy with the cuts and styles, and happy to lend support to the important cause. TUBC teachers also had fun, and look forward to an even bigger event next year!
